SKYFURY Drops Aggressive New Synthwave-Metal Single "Death Race"

Athens, Greece - Darksynth project SKYFURY returns with "Death Race," a track that bridges the gap between 80s cinematic nostalgia and modern metal aggression. Led by producer and guitarist Panos Kouzoupis, the single is a fast-paced blend of heavy riffing and retro electronic atmospheres, designed for fans of Dance with the Dead, Battlejuice, and Midnight Danger.

Dead, Battered, and Midnight Danger.

Moving away from pure nostalgia, SKYFURY focuses on the heavier side of the genre. "Death Race" balances cold, industrial synth textures with the raw drive of metal guitars, creating a soundtrack for a high-speed chase through a neon-lit metropolis. Drawing influence from 80s horror and action scores, the track avoids filler, aiming straight for high energy and grit.

With "Death Race," SKYFURY sets the tone for 2026, signaling a shift toward a darker, guitar-forward sound for the Athens underground scene.

For fans of: Darksynth, Cyberpunk, Heavy Metal, Retro-Electro.
